

Table of Contents

Foreword to the Second Edition	VII
Foreword to the First Edition	XIII
Index of Abbreviations	XXIX
Methodological Considerations	XXXI
1. Problems with Definitions	XXXI
2. Problems with Terminology	XXXVI
3. Problems with the Data and with Graphic and Cartographic Representations	XLI
4. The Selection of States	XLVI
Introduction	1
Christoph Pan/Beate Sibylle Pfeil
1. The Issue of National Minorities: An Old Problem in the New Europe	3
1.1 Problem Analysis: Peoples, States, Minorities, or: Ethnicity and the Nation-State	3
1.2 Ethnicity and Democracy	5
1.3 The Discrimination Dilemma of Democracy and the ECHR System	6
1.4 The Redistribution of Power as the Heart of the National Minorities Issue	7
1.5 The Current Situation of the National Minorities Issue	8
2. European Protection of Minorities within the Framework of Human Rights, Democracy, and the Rule of Law	11
2.1 The Need to Supplement the System of Human Rights	12
2.2 The Need to Supplement the System of Democracy	17
3. Autonomy as a Requirement of Democracy	18
3.1 Autonomy as a Path to “Internal” Self-determination	18
3.2 The Typology of Autonomy	23
3.2.1 Territorial Autonomy	23

3.2.2	Cultural or Personal Autonomy	24
3.2.3	Local Autonomy (Local Self-government)	26
3.2.4	Subdivision of Administration, Provision of Financial Means, and Legal Protection	27

Part I

General: The Peoples, States, Languages, and National Minorities of Europe 29

Christoph Pan/Beate Sibylle Pfeil/Paul Videsott

1.	The National Minorities of Europe: General Overview (Table 1) ..	31
2.	The National Minorities of Europe 2001–2011 (Table 2)	33
3.	The National Minorities of Europe by Size 2011 (Table 3)	35
4.	The States of Europe by Population (Table 4)	38
5.	The Languages of Europe by Language Family (Table 5)	40
6.	The Peoples and National Minorities of Europe by Language Classification and Demographic Size 2011 (Table 6)	43
7.	The Peoples and National Minorities of Europe Classified by Language and State (Table 7)	46
8.	The Majority and Minority Languages of Europe — Speakers (Table 8)	60
8.1	European National Languages and Number of Speakers (Table 8.1)	60
8.2	The Stateless Languages of Europe (Table 8.2)	62
8.3	European Minority Languages with a Core Area Outside of Europe (Table 8.3)	63
8.4	Summary (Table 8.4)	64
9.	Conflicts on Autonomy or Secession in Europe since 2000 by the Average Degree of Their Intensity (Table 9)	66

Part II

National Minorities in the States of Europe:
Numbers, Demographic Sizes, and Geographical Distribution 71

1.	Albania (Christoph Pan)	73
2.	Austria (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	77
3.	Belarus (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	81
4.	Belgium (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	85
5.	Bosnia and Herzegovina (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	89
6.	Bulgaria (Christoph Pan)	93
7.	Croatia (Paul Videsott)	97

8. Czech Republic (Paul Videsott)	101
9. Denmark (Christoph Pan)	105
10. Estonia (Christoph Pan)	108
11. Finland (Christoph Pan)	111
12. France (Christoph Pan)	114
13. Germany (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	118
14. Greece (Christoph Pan)	122
15. Hungary (Christoph Pan)	126
16. Ireland (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	129
17. Italy (Christoph Pan)	132
18. Kosovo (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	136
19. Latvia (Paul Videsott)	140
20. Lithuania (Paul Videsott)	143
21. Macedonia (Christoph Pan)	146
22. Moldova (without Transnistria) (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	150
23. Montenegro (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	154
24. Netherlands (Paul Videsott)	158
25. Norway (Paul Videsott)	162
26. Poland (Paul Videsott/Christoph Pan)	166
27. Portugal (Paul Videsott)	170
28. Romania (Christoph Pan)	173
29. Russia (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	177
30. Serbia (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	182
31. Slovakia (Paul Videsott)	186
32. Slovenia (Paul Videsott)	190
33. Spain (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	194
34. Sweden (Paul Videsott)	198
35. Switzerland (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	202
36. Turkey (Christoph Pan)	207
37. Ukraine (Beate Sibylle Pfeil)	211
38. United Kingdom (Paul Videsott)	215

Part III

Articles on the Minorities Issue	219
1. The Minorities Issue in Europe	221
Christoph Pan
1.1 Introduction	221
1.2 Clarification of Terminology	222
1.2.1 Autochthonous Minorities	223

1.2.2	Allochthonous Minorities	226
1.2.3	Local Minorities (“Minorities within Minorities”) ...	226
1.3	The Heart of the Conflict between Nationalities	226
1.4	The Demographic Sizes of National Minorities in Europe ...	227
1.5	The Quantitative Dilemma between Ethnicities and States ..	229
1.6	Minority Protection as a System Correction	230
1.7	Regional Self-government as an Additional Component of System Correction	232
1.8	Closing Remarks	233
2.	The National Issue as a Key Problem of the Twentieth Century	234
	Christoph Pan
2.1	The Analogy between the Social Issue and the National Issue	235
2.2	The Social Issue and Its Solution	236
2.3	The Origin of the National Issue	236
2.4	The First Approaches at a Solution	239
2.5	Human Rights and Illusions	242
2.6	Minority Protection as a Matter of International Concern ...	244
2.7	External Self-determination and Right of Secession Only in Extreme Exceptional Cases	246
2.8	Self-determination: A Unique Act or a Permanent Condition?	248
2.9	Outlook	250
3.	The Significance of Minority and Language Protection for the Cultural Diversity of Europe	252
	Christoph Pan
3.1	Cultural Diversity as Europe’s Wealth	252
3.2	States, Languages, and Minorities as the Expression of Cultural Diversity	253
3.2.1	States	253
3.2.2	Languages	254
3.2.3	Minorities and Minority Languages	257
3.3	Is the Cultural Diversity of Europe under Threat?	262
3.3.1	Risk Factors	263
3.3.2	Counterstrategies	265
3.4	Minority Protection as a Task for All of Europe	266
3.4.1	The European Instruments for Minority Protection ..	267
3.4.2	The European System of Minority Protection	268

3.4.3	Implementation under the Control of the Council of Europe	270
3.5	Approaches at Language Policy	271
3.5.1	Protection against Language Fragmentation	271
3.5.2	Language Cultivation and Linguistic Development ..	272
3.5.3	Resistance to Superseding	273
3.5.4	Language Status Planning	274
3.6	Closing Remarks	275
4.	Minority Languages as a Part of the European Written Language Landscape	276
	Paul Videsott
4.1	Languages and Minorities in Europe	276
4.2	The Written Use of (Minority) Languages in Europe	277
4.3	The Typology of a Written Language: The Use of Language	279
4.4	The Classification of European Languages by Their Writing	280
4.4.1	European Languages with Limited Writing	280
4.4.2	European Languages with Polyscriptural Writing	282
4.4.3	European Languages with Essentially Monoscriptural Writing	285
4.5	Language Policy Considerations	288
5.	The Political Organization of National Minorities	291
	Christoph Pan
5.1	The Need for Organization in a Representative Democracy	291
5.2	Parties and Associations as the Basic Forms of Political Organizations	292
5.3	Ethnicity as a Phenomenon of Democracy and the Ethnospecific Interest in Organizing	293
5.4	Minority-specific Impediments to Organization	295
5.5	The Extent of Minority Codetermination	297
5.6	The Political Organization of National Minorities	298
5.7	Ethnospecific Basic Forms of Political Organization	300
5.8	The Representation of Minorities at the National Level	302
5.9	Minority Organizations at the International Level	303
5.9.1	FUEN	304
5.9.2	EBLUL	305
5.10	Political Organization as a Matter of Survival	306

6. The Protective Function of “Kin States”:
Possibilities and Limits	308
Christoph Pan
6.1 The Interdependence of the Minorities Issue in Europe	308
6.2 The Europeanization of the Minorities Issue	310
6.3 New Perspectives on Minority Protection through the Pact on Stability in Europe	314
6.4 The Possibilities and Limits of the Minority Competences of “Kin States”	315
6.4.1 The Contents of Benefits Granted Abroad	316
6.4.2 Benefits Granted by Person	317
6.4.3 Benefits Granted by Location	317
6.4.4 Compatibility with the Essential Principles of International Law	317
6.4.5 Observance of Certain Fundamental Rules	318
6.5 Significance under International Law and Outlook	319
7. The Minorities Issue in the European Union	322
Christoph Pan
7.1 The Significance of the Minorities Issue in and for the Union	322
7.2 The Double Strategy of the EU’s Minority Policy	323
7.3 The Minority-specific Foreign Policy of the Union	324
7.4 The Minority-relevant Internal Policy of the Union	326
7.4.1 The General Prohibition against Discrimination	326
7.4.2 The Promotion of Languages and Cultures	327
7.4.3 The Promotion of Employment and Integration	329
7.4.4 Regional Policy	330
7.5 The Minorities Issue in the EU after Lisbon	331
7.5.1 Language Diversity and Protection of Cultural Heritage at the Level of Union Goals	331
7.5.2 Improvement and Expansion of Implementation regarding Diversity	332
7.5.3 Services of General Economic Interest	332
7.5.4 Access to the Union’s Judicial System	333
7.5.5 European Citizens’ Initiative	333
7.5.6 Qualified Majority instead of the Principle of Unanimity	335
7.6 Closing Remarks	336

8. Minority Protection and Economics	340
Christoph Pan
Part 1: Economics as the Second Column of Minority Protection	340
8.1 The Role of Economics for Minority Protection	342
8.1.1 Economics as the Precondition for Minority Protection	342
8.1.2 Minority Protection as an Economic Factor	343
8.2 Regions and Minorities: A Double Strategy	344
8.2.1 The Presence of Minorities Requires Increased Regional Services	344
8.2.2 The Presence of Minorities Offers Added Regional Value	344
8.3 Minority Languages as a Valuable Asset for Regional Development	346
8.3.1 Economic Support through Cultural Enrichment	346
8.3.2 Economic Impetus	347
8.3.3 The Economic Significance of Cultural Activities	348
8.3.4 Employment Effects through Creativity and Multilingualism	349
8.3.5 Environmental Compatibility through the Decoupling of the Exploitation of Nature	349
8.4 Regional Self-government with Minority Protection	350
Part 2: Minority Protection and Regional Development: The Case Study of South Tyrol	352
8.5 Introduction to the South Tyrol Issue	352
8.6 South Tyrol's Autonomy Basis, Goals, Successes	354
8.6.1 Basis	354
8.6.2 Goals	356
8.6.3 Structural Data and Indications of Success	361
8.7 South Tyrol's Regional Development	366
8.7.1 The Opening up of the Rural Area as a Strategic Emphasis	366
8.7.2 The Regional Policy Apparatus	368
8.8 Closing Considerations	378

9. The Change in the Minorities Issue: Between Violence and Reason, from Conflict to Added Value Potential	380
Christoph Pan
9.1 Introduction	380
9.2 The Potential for Conflict of the Minorities Issue	380
9.3 Minority Conflicts: Cause, Subject Matter	382
9.4 Conflict Intensity and the Risk of Violence	385
9.5 Conflict Management through Instruments of Protection and Promotion	389
9.6 From the Center of Conflict to Added Value Potential	390
9.7 Regional Autonomy as an Opportunity	394
10. Ethnic “Cleansing” versus Minority Protection: The Treatment of National Minorities in Europe	397
Beate Sibylle Pfeil
10.1 Introduction	397
10.2 The National Minorities Issue in the Early Twentieth Century	399
10.3 The National Minorities Issue before and after the Second World War	405
10.4 The National Minorities Issue since the Change in Europe from 1989	410
10.5 Current Dynamics in the Minorities Issue	413
10.5.1 Recent Developments with the European Union	414
10.5.2 Recent Developments in the Area of Regionalism	415
10.5.3 Recent Findings on the “Added Value through Minorities”	416
10.5.4 Collective Protection of National Minorities and Separatism: Food for Thought	417
10.6 Closing Considerations	419
Bibliography	421
Authors	469